WOMAN CHUM OF THE DYNAMITERS ARRESTED.

Conceals Truth in Searching Examination; Is Brought to Los Angeles.

Chief Seymour of San Francisco Police Shows That He Means Business and Turns Mrs. Lavin, in Whose House Conspirators Met, Over to Earl Rogers—Almost Collapses on Learning She Is Held on Murder Charge—Intimate Friend, Agitator, Under Surveillance.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After a day of harrowing examination by Chief of Police Seymour, Mrs. Belle Lavin, the woman in whose bosom may lie the secrets of a trio of men who are suspected of having dynamited and burned the Times Building and murdered twenty-one employees, was turned over to Attorney Earl Rogers and his detectives for removal to Los Angeles on a charge of murder.

She was taken south on the Lark tonight. The arrest and deportation came as the climax of an unusual effort to let the woman reveal what she knows of M. V. Schmidt, known as "Schmitt," and "Smithy," in the Lavin home, and its neighborhood, but known as "J. B. Bryson," and "J. B. Leonard," and "F. A. Perry" in the purchase of the dynamite at Giant and the renting of the launch Pastime.

While she was under examination, "Jack" Lofthouse, her intimate male friend, a roomer at her home and a labor agitator, was also being interrogated by Chief Seymour. His arrest was not ordered by the Chief, because he declared his complete innocence, and promised that he would be able to prove it. In addition, he gave his promise to aid the police in tracking the known members of the trio. He left the Central Police Station under surveillance, which will be continued until he proves his good faith.

ADROIT WORK.

The arrest of the Lavin woman on a charge of murder is the result of adroit, patient and persistent work on the part of Rogers and Detective S. L. Browne and his assistants.

It began when the address given by the man, who said his name was Morris, to Bruce McCaull, salesman of the Giant Powder Company, in the Kohl building, was noticed. From that day, only twenty-four hours after the tragedy in Los Angeles, the house at No. 1010 Mission street has been the object of investigation. The neighborhood has been searched for information, with slow but sure rewards, and gradually the facts surrounding Schmidt, and Mrs. Lavin, and Bryce and Mrs. Ingersoll have been exposed and fitted together in a coherent narrative.

Numerous witnesses have been found, and the movements of the four persons have been traced on both sides of the bay. This tracing has involved at least one of the "higher ups" of unionism to such an extent that the police have asked him to postpone a contemplated trip until he can satisfy them that he is innocent of connection with the terrible crime.

This man has been prominent in the Los Angeles agitation. Others of less importance are also connected with the two principal actors in the dynamite purchase.

RECORDS OF MEN KNOWN.

Schmidt, according to the evidence in the possession of Rogers, has made his home with Mrs. Lavin for five months. But this is not the whole period of his life here, for he has lived in Oakland and other environs of the Gate city.

Bryce is the new comer. He is a Chicago man, and a "pet" criminal with a record of penal servitude and jail breaking. He came west from Chicago, so far as has been learned, about September 4—at least, if he was here before that date, Rogers will not divulge the fact. But it was at that date that he appeared at the home of Mrs. D. H. Ingersoll, a friend and neighbor of Mrs. Lavin. He made a pretense of having come accidentally, but before he had been there half an hour Schmidt appeared. Subsequently, Schmidt's visits were frequent, and it is believed the two hatched the dynamite plot in her house.

Not until the trial of this woman and her male associates on the charge of murder, will the details gathered by the detectives become public. Tonight Rogers positively declined to reveal the facts that justified Chief Seymour, who took personal charge of the police work today, to order her arrest.

SEYMOUR MEANS BUSINESS.

Whatever others on the police force may be doing through incompetence or other cause to impede the investigation, Chief Seymour today showed that he means business. Much is known to him, and it was his effort to give the woman every opportunity to tell the truth. From 11 o'clock in the morning until 5 o'clock he persevered. After her first examination, she was taken to another room and then brought back for another ordeal. After another lapse, she received a third grilling. She contradicted her own statements, and satisfied the Chief that she was not trying to tell the truth.

It was then he sent for Rogers, at whose request the woman had been brought down for the sweating.

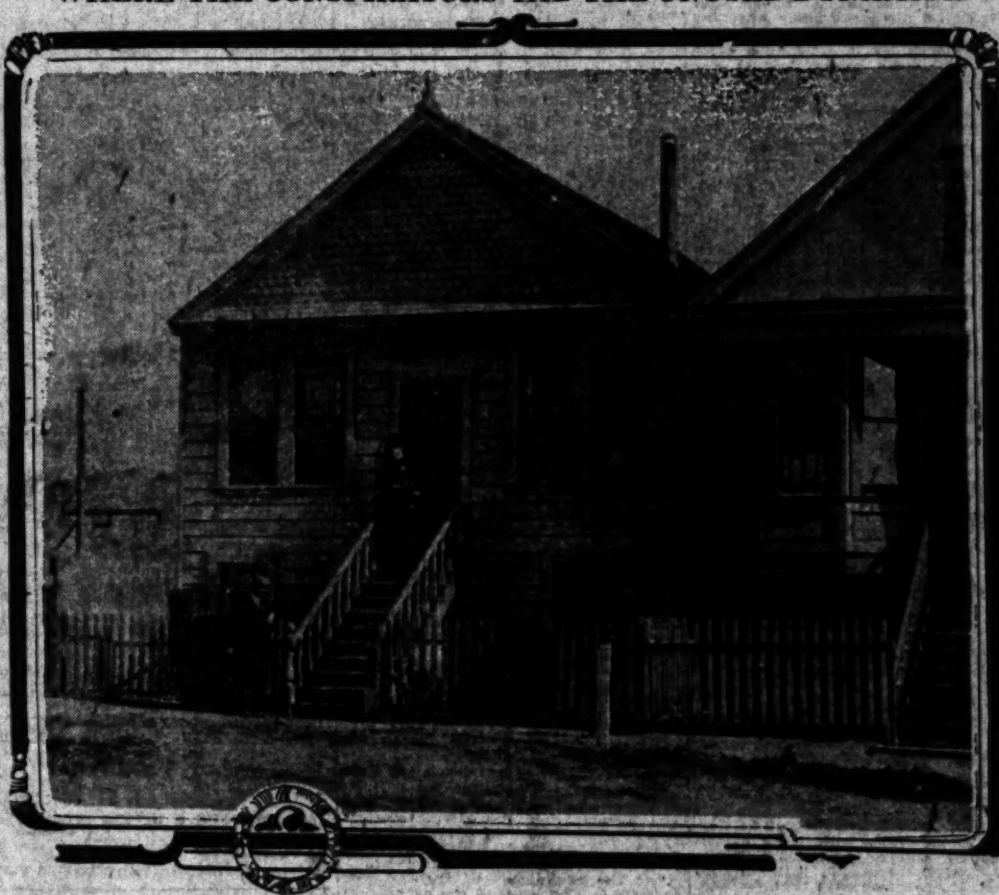

"This woman is lying," he said to Rogers. "You better take her down to Los Angeles."

She was at once turned over to Detective C. A. Jones of Los Angeles and Detective Conlen of this city, and Rogers, as a prisoner.

Rogers and the detectives took her in an automobile to the house, No. 2410 Mission street. There she was submitted to a process of what police call "frisking." It had important results. Documents of a nature deemed important by Rogers were found, but he would not tell what they are. It is known, however, that a pair of white linen cuffs, size 10½, were found in her dresser, and they bore the laundry mark "XX2," which was the mark on the laundry sent from the Hotel Argonaut

PHOENIX, Oct. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At the close of the ninth day of the Constitutional Convention, the delegates, most of them from a few members of the legislative assembly.

John C. Grahame county this morning proposed that a proposition be submitted to the voters at a general election to be held at the close of the convention. He explained that such a proposition would help the Judiciary Committee and lawyers in days to come by directing them accurately to the subjects at issue. The proposition failed as it was opposed by the delegates and thus ended the session.

LIVES WITH NECK BROKEN.

STRANGE CASE OF A TEAMSTER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

OAKLAND, Oct. 18.—His neck broken by a barrel of cement striking him on the back of his head, while he was in a stooping posture, his legs and body paralyzed, J. O. Johnson, a teamster, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday and put on an operating table, still conscious. He was able to talk with his attendant, tell his name and address and explain the accident to the surgeons. His mind remained normal, although he was numb from his neck to his feet and suffered no pain. The case is considered one of the most remarkable ever treated in a western hospital.

GIANT TREE IS CUT.

FURNISHES MUCH LUMBER.

CHICO, Oct. 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At Chico, yesterday, logging trains of the Diamond Match Company hauled to the company's saw mill eight logs of sugar pine that were taken from a giant tree. Each log was sixteen feet long, and there is eighteen thousand feet of lumber in the tree. At the stump, where the first cut was made, the diameter was eight feet and at the top where the last log was cut it was three feet thick. Above that the tree trunk tapered so that it could not be used for lumber. About 100 feet was lost in this manner. The height of the tree was almost 300 feet. It was cut at Ramsey Bar.

DEATH CAUSES BRIEF PARTING.

AGED PAIR DIE AT STOCKTON SIX HOURS APART.

Early California Pioneers, Who Celebrated Golden Wedding Anniversary Last June, Were Buried in Ireland—Lulu Nolan, the Husband, Was Prosperous.

STOCKTON, Oct. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two caskets containing the bodies of Lulu Nolan and her husband, who died at the late residence of the late Andrew Nolan, were taken to the cemetery yesterday. Mrs. Nolan died first, and about six hours later Nolan expired. Both died of complications.

The couple were pioneers in the County of Stockton, Ireland. Nolan came to America in 1850, locating at New Orleans, but soon moved to San Francisco, where he met for his fiancée and they were married.

Later they came to San Joaquin county, where, for forty-seven years they conducted a large farm.

Three years ago Nolan retired from active business and moved to his home in Stockton. On June 7, last, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan celebrated their golden wedding.

CHURCH'S POSITION UNCHANGED.

Mormon Ecclesiastics Admit Strictures of Plural Marriage, But Take No Decision.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 18.—Since the close of the fall conference of the Mormon Church there has been much comment both in church circles and outside on the question of plural marriage. The question of plural marriage as a religious rite, was treated. The matter was left as before, without any reaffirmation or enlargement of the Woodruff manifesto, which declared that polygamy was a necessary condition of the church.

Two or three days before the conference the church was in high ecclesiastical authority that the first presidential agency would put the ban of the church upon all who practiced or connived at the practice of plural marriage. It was admitted that the recent magazine articles on the alleged recrudescence of polygamy were interfering with the influence of the missionaries, and that certain high ecclesiastics were in favor of taking an unequivocal position against illegal marriage.

AN ABSOLUTE NECESSITY.

So Thinks At Least One Traveling Man.

I would as soon think of starting out without my suitcase books and grip as to start out on a trip without a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in my valise, said a traveling man who represented St. Louis, Mo., at the "Bullocks" exposition. Why? Because I have to put up at all kinds of hotels and boarding houses. I have to eat good, bad and indifferent food at all hours of the day and night and I don't believe any man's stomach will stand that sort of thing without "rotting," anyway I know mine won't. I see to have something to break the fall and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the crutch I fall back on.

My friends often "josh" me about it, tell me I'm an easy mark for patent medicine salesmen, that advertised medicines are humbugs, etc., but I notice that they are nearly always complaining of their aches and pains and poor digestion, while I can stand most any old kind of fare and feel good and ready for my work when it needs me, and I believe I owe my good digestion and sound health to the daily, regular use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, year in and year out, and all the "rotting" in the world will never convince me to the contrary.

I used to have heartburn about three times a day and a headache about three or four times a week and after standing for this for four or five years I began to look around for a crutch and found it in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The best investment I could make would be a fifty cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I have invested that sum for a month for them ever since and what I got in return is that I feel like shaking hands with myself for I can keep my stomach and digestion in first class order for fifty cents a month. I don't care for any better life insurance.

My druggist tells me they are the most popular of all stomach medicines and that they have maintained their popularity and success because they do as advertised. They bring results, and results are what count in a patent medicine as much as in selling bar-b-wire.

SEATTLE, Oct. 18.—J. Gando, a Greek laborer, trying to cross the Snoqualmie River in a boat today was swept over the falls and dashed to death on the rocks 80 feet below, nearly every bone in his body being broken. Gando and John Gahlbick, a companion, sought to paddle across the stream and when they reached the swift current it brought their craft toward the cataract. Gahlbick leaped overboard and swam ashore. Gando, panic-stricken, shrieked in terror and men on the bank endeavored in vain to help him.

SLAYER LIVED IN BISBEE.

Ketchum's Assassin Told Friends in Arizona City How He Escaped From Navy.

BISBEE (Ariz.) Oct. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Walter A. Dwyer, the self-confessed slayer of Stanley Ketchum, the middle-weight champion, was a former resident of Bisbee, having left here two months ago. He was employed in the copper mines here.

According to the story told by Dwyer while here, he was stationed on a United States battleship at Manila two years ago. He became engaged in a quarrel with a lieutenant and a fight resulted. The lieutenant received the worst of the slugging and Dwyer was ordered to be flogged. Dwyer jumped overboard and escaped to Manila. Later, he made an effort to join the United States Navy, but was rejected because of his record.

In the hope of escaping arrest as a deserter, Dwyer purchased discharge papers from a sailor A. Murt, a discharged marine. This transaction occurred in Manila, according to Dwyer.

OAKLAND, Oct. 18.—George Fong, alias Fong Ming Sung, the young leader of the Chinese revolutionary movement, who is charged with an attempt to assassinate Prince Tsai Hsun, Chinese special envoy, was held to answer before Judge Mortimer Smith this morning and bound over to the Superior Court for trial.

Witnesses against him were Detective Sergeant George McMahon of San Francisco, who stopped Fong from shooting the prince, and a Chinese secret service agent Harry Moffatt, chief deputy district attorney McKinley and Capt. Peterson of the police. Fong had received confessions from Fong of his intention to murder the prince. Fong was represented by counsel. The formal charge is attempt to commit murder with a deadly weapon.

SUES HIS SON-IN-LAW.

Aged California Vineyardist Alleges He Was Molested Out of Thousands in Profits.

STOCKTON, Oct. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring his son-in-law, Levi A. Atwood, has failed to pay him or give an accounting of the crops taken from a large vineyard near Lodi, Martin L. Ladd today filed suit to secure a judgment of $10,000 against the son-in-law, which will no doubt prove a sensation.

The original firm name was Ladd and Atwood, and it was formed in 1885 to conduct a vineyard business. Ladd says he discovered at one time that his share of the profits were only $25,000 and the company's assets were $100,000. Other amounts he believes are due him. E. W. Ladd, son of the aged couple, has arrived from New York to assist his father in the suit, which will no doubt prove a sensation.

"LOVE-NOTHING" HIS SCORE.

Former Tennis Champion Whitney in Jail Because New Wife Takes First One's Alimony.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Robert W. Whitney, son of F. L. Whitney, a wealthy retired wool merchant, is in trouble through having married a widow with two children. Not that any domestic discord has come to disturb the peace of the home, but on account of Whitney's former wife, now divorced, insisting that she receive the coin which is being spent on the new establishment.

Whitney was once a tennis champion, but now he is in "love nothing" in the city prison, charged with the non-support of a minor child. It came about this way. Whitney obtained a divorce six years ago, accompanied by an order for $50 a month alimony. The alimony was not paid. The husband was cited to appear before Judge Graham and explain his failure to pay on schedule time, and told the story of the second marriage and of the widow with two children.

The court declared he must pay. From that date, Whitney could not be found, until Monday. He was seen on the street and arrested.

A SIMPLE CURE FOR HEADACHE

Headache is one of the most distressing ills that humanity suffers. And being so general it is one which does not receive much sympathy. It is however may be a symptom of much more serious troubles and the sufferer should at once take measures to discover the real cause of headache and apply the proper remedy. In the majority of cases the evil may be very easily diagnosed. Eye-strain is one of the most frequent causes, and all who are martyrs to headaches cannot do better than consult the Queen's Optician, the well-known oculist, 334 S. Hill, where the best advice will be obtained. Correct glasses—the important matter in the treatment of an eye defect—will be fitted, and the patient will find that once the optical nerves are soothed and rested by suitable spectacles headaches will become a thing of the past.

Residents are protesting the Overturning Street Vets, and Sign Petition to Board of Supervisors in Protest of Proposed Intercession.

It was in the beginning a battle for balance of power between the two aspects of primary education. The Provincial Association and the Provincial Education Board were all of independent mind. The Provincial Association was not a political organization and its members expressed their opinion openly that they had been betrayed by their own membership in the Provincial Education Board. The bitterness of feeling grew out of the promise made by the Government to the Provincial Association that it would be represented in the Provincial Education Board, where the majority of the people were against it. The Provincial Education Board was a political organization and its members were appointed by the Provincial Association. The Provincial Education Board had prepared ballots and decided to vote.

The result of this preliminary ballot was

The figures were submitted to the Glendale Council and the annexation committee. This is where the trouble began. The council was not in favor of the annexation. A member of the Casa Verdejo association who favors annexation said that the vote was not representative of the community and to have encouraged the annexation would have been a mistake. The move, however, fanned the flames of opposition into fierce blaze.

The women of the neighborhood were headed by Mrs. G. L. Larksey and Mrs. T. R. Crosswell. They began an organization of the women of the neighborhood and the merchants from their tract in the district. This proved rather telling blow at annexation. The women of the neighborhood were determined to keep the territory and losing the trade

The next battle-ground will be when the election petition comes before the court. Verdugo has a petition drawn up and is urging them to omit the district in calling for the election, fearing that the effect of the new West Glendale might be heavy enough to carry them in against their will.

Charles C. Thornton is president of the Casa Verdugo Improvement Association and in him the suburb has its champion. He is a resident of the area and is a member of the Pasadena Press-Scimitar Valley General Manager's office.

The plaintiff corporation, but the board of directors did not vote to allow him that amount after the gaination was in running order. He also had a claim for $175 salary. Judge Hutton ordered that he should recover both sums.

The higher court held that the $175 would not legally be charged against the corporation, unless its directors ratified the claim. It was decreed that he should receive his salary.

The defendants have the privilege of tendering to the clerk of the court their acceptance of the modification, having the case on for trial in the Superior Court.

THE OIL INDUSTRY. OIL HEARINGS COME TO END. SECRETARY PIERCE WILL VISIT FIELDS. DOCUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST YARD DECISION. EVERY PHASE OF THE SITU- ATION IS PRESENTED.

Frank Pierce, First Assistant Secretary of the Interior, at 10 o'clock yesterday afternoon concluded the hearing on the proposed oil field in the local community interested in the local oil industry. This evening he will leave for the oil fields, arriving there tomorrow morning. An automobile trip over the country will be made by him, and the Assistant Secretary will be accompanied in his tour of inspection by Charles F. Fox, president of the California Oil Men's Association, and J. A. Johnson, the secretary of the oil industry.

At the hearing, Mr. Pierce will be able to cover the San Joaquin valley and upon his visit to the oil fields he will be entered by the Chamber of Commerce, and will be able to cover the San Joaquin valley and upon his visit to the oil fields he will be entered by the Chamber of Commerce, and will be able to cover the San Joaquin valley and upon his visit to the oil fields he will be entered by the Chamber of Commerce.

can, and should not be allowed to remain there long enough to sour or rot. The garbage can, itself, should be washed, and it cannot become foul. It is the housewife's fault, and decidedly not her credit as such, if it does.

Another thing. The can should be removed to the owner's premises and attended to, as soon as possible after it has been emptied. I have passed by groups of cans, covered with flies and sour smelling, at an hour when no garbage wagon had visited the section for hours. What a sight for our visitors from eastern cities! We are proud of our beautiful homes, surrounded with our well kept lawns and flower gardens, and then litter our sidewalks with unsightly and unsanitary garbage cans.

Let the woman, as the head of the home beautiful, see to it that her garbage can be as sanitary as she insists that her front lawn be kept smooth, and the garbage question will answer itself, and soon.

NOVEL SCHEME SOON CHECKED. FIND VICTIMS AMONG REL- TIVES OF THE DEAD.

Federal Court Indicts Defendant for Illegal Use of the United States Mail—Plan Was to Mail Fountain Pen With Order for Three Times Its Value.

G. J. Osterhout, who is alleged to have hatched out a clever scheme to defraud the relatives of persons who have died recently, was yesterday indicted by the Federal grand jury on a charge of having used the United States mail for illegal purposes. He has been in custody several weeks.

Another indictment was returned in the partial report which was made to Judge Wallcott. After reporting the jury went to their chambers for further deliberation.

The scheme charged to Osterhout is absolutely new and possibly would have worked with considerable profit to himself if there had not been evidence of a greedy desire to make money. The proposition was to send fountain pens by express to the address of persons recently deceased. Each pen was worth about $1.15, but there was a C. O. D. of $1.75 attached to it.

The supposition was that the relatives would think that the pen had been ordered and that they would pay for it. The hypothesis was correct in some cases but in others it was not. Some of the relatives recognized the fraud of paying more than three times the value of the pen.

YOUNG MOTHERS

The greatest crisis in a woman's life is when first she becomes a mother. All the physical strength of her nature is demanded at such times, and it is necessary that her system be thoroughly prepared for the event in order that her health be preserved for future years. Mother's Friend is woman's safest reliance; it is a medicine for external use, composed of oils and other ingredients which assist nature in all necessary physical changes of the system. Its regular use before the coming of baby prepares the muscles and tendons for the unusual strain, aids in expelling the fetus and fresh blood, and strengthens all the membranes and tissues. Mother's Friend lessens the pain and danger at the crisis, and leaves the mother in such healthful condition that her recovery is always rapid and natural. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Pen Points.

Chew up, ladies, the Sultan of Sulu says he is coming back every year.

No far nobody has charged the Sultan with trouble to the Taft administration.

Major Gaynor now rides in a green sedan. Is this a concession to Taft?

The love of other people's money is at the bottom of a great deal of the evil in this world.

The anti-gambling law of Nevada does not apply to the Reno divorce lottery scheme.

It is quite possible that Woodrow Wilson has mistaken a New Jersey newspaper for the Presidential box.

And now some of the medical shams that the doughnut is unhealthy. But the hole appears to be all right.

The Imperial Senate of China has been officially opened at Peking. Wonder if there is a "Gum-Shoe Bill" in the body?

Every time we see a man who can accomplish important things by whispering we feel like doffing our hat in the superior presence.

If the Sultan of Turkey wants to borrow $50,000,000, why doesn't he drop a line to Ben Berry, the baseball manager. He has all of the money in this town.

With the rail-stones out of the system of Senator La Follette it is possible he will become tamer and feed out of the hand of the administration.

The next congress has about made up its mind not to be Democratic, just to fool some of the political wiseacres who have been predicting that condition.

If this thing comes up it will be necessary for the politicians of the earth to devise a scheme to entertain Booker T. Washington to get into line and await their turn.

The open season is on in full blast in the East, and every ship is bringing over a cargo of fresh codfish. The Chandler boys ought to be looked after a little.

The young woman who gave her age as 18, and wanted a marriage license the other day in the office of the clerk of the local court, ought to have had the old maid's chance.

It was necessary to summon the police to keep order during the recent celebration. It is the same old story of that party "getting together."

It is all right to increase the police force of Los Angeles, but it was former Mayor the late Carter H. Harrison of Chicago who once remarked that "one street lamp is as good as ten policemen."

The census shows that there has been a sharp increase in the population of rural counties where the people are enjoying the advantages of a system of good roads. It is an object lesson that should have a good effect everywhere.

The population of Delaware is officially fixed at 252,223, much less than that of Los Angeles. It is not understood, therefore, why the folks there should make so much noise about the failure of the peach crop in that little hamlet.

The Democratic Congressional campaign book for 1910 is out, and is sent broadcast under the name of Representative Lloyd, chairman of the Congressional committee. The Republican book is sent out at regular postage rates. This is the difference.

A state spelling match is proposed in California, with rich prizes for those who stand up longest and master the use of words. Don't you recall the line of Whittier's "In School Days": "I'm sorry that I spelled the word, I hate to go above you, because the brown deer never fell."

FREDERICKS AND WOOLWINE.
The treacherous attempt in Republican circles to unseat District Attorney Fredericks and put T. L. Woolwine in his place is petty politics—that's all. Capt. Fredericks is the duly chosen Republican nominee, and the Republican County Convention pledged him its support. The assumption that the few agitators now seeking to defeat him by unworthy methods have either more sense or more conscience than the large majority of the Republican voters in the primary election or the Republican County Convention, is enough to disgust any thoughtful voter.

Capt. Fredericks has been a faithful District Attorney. The Times has no hesitancy in saying that Woolwine has fully demonstrated his unfitness for the position. Indeed the most uncomplimentary thing that has been said about him was uttered by his present principal backer, who, according to the stenographer's notes, testified before the grand jury that "Woolwine was a damned fool." This is the testimony of the foremost advocate of Woolwine's present candidacy. The Times never has gone so far as to say that; but it is convinced that Woolwine has none of the qualifications for the office of District Attorney and would not be seriously considered for one moment in connection with such a position.

DEATH'S HEAVY HAND.
The lesson of death has been a heavy hand upon a man and a woman of more than national reputation. Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver has been called to another land, while Mrs. Julia Ward Howe has also laid down the burden of life.

Vice-President Sherman spoke the opinion of the majority of his countrymen when he telegraphed to the widow that the public service of the late Senator was marked by patriotism, uprightiness, courage, industry and rare ability. Although Senator Dolliver was less known on the Pacific Coast than anywhere else, yet every one here, without regard to party, respected him and credited him with honesty and sincerity of purpose. When he visited Los Angeles not quite two years ago he was most cordially greeted and a large audience turned out to hear him sound the praises of Mr. Taft and to extol the policy of the Republican administration. In the short period which elapsed between that date and the time of his sudden death, Senator Dolliver became less cordial in his support of the administration. He showed a tendency to follow false prophets, even to become one himself. But the grim destroyer has stopped him on the road to iniquity and has taken him hence, where politics never trouble and there is no tariff to revise.

Removed from all strife, both political and otherwise, was the gentle woman who was Mrs. Julia Ward Howe. She was still living in England and was one of the greatest large cities of this Coast was upon the map. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe was a pioneer in every thing—anti-slavery, woman's suffrage, prison reform, the cause of peace. One can hardly name a foreigner who was not a friend of her cause. She was a woman of great power, and she was a woman of great power. She was a woman of great power, and she was a woman of great power.

Age and infirmities, however, kept her, in later years, from public notice and therefore she was overlooked while the new leaders among the women took up the cause of battle. She was a woman of great power, and she was a woman of great power. She was a woman of great power, and she was a woman of great power. She was a woman of great power, and she was a woman of great power.

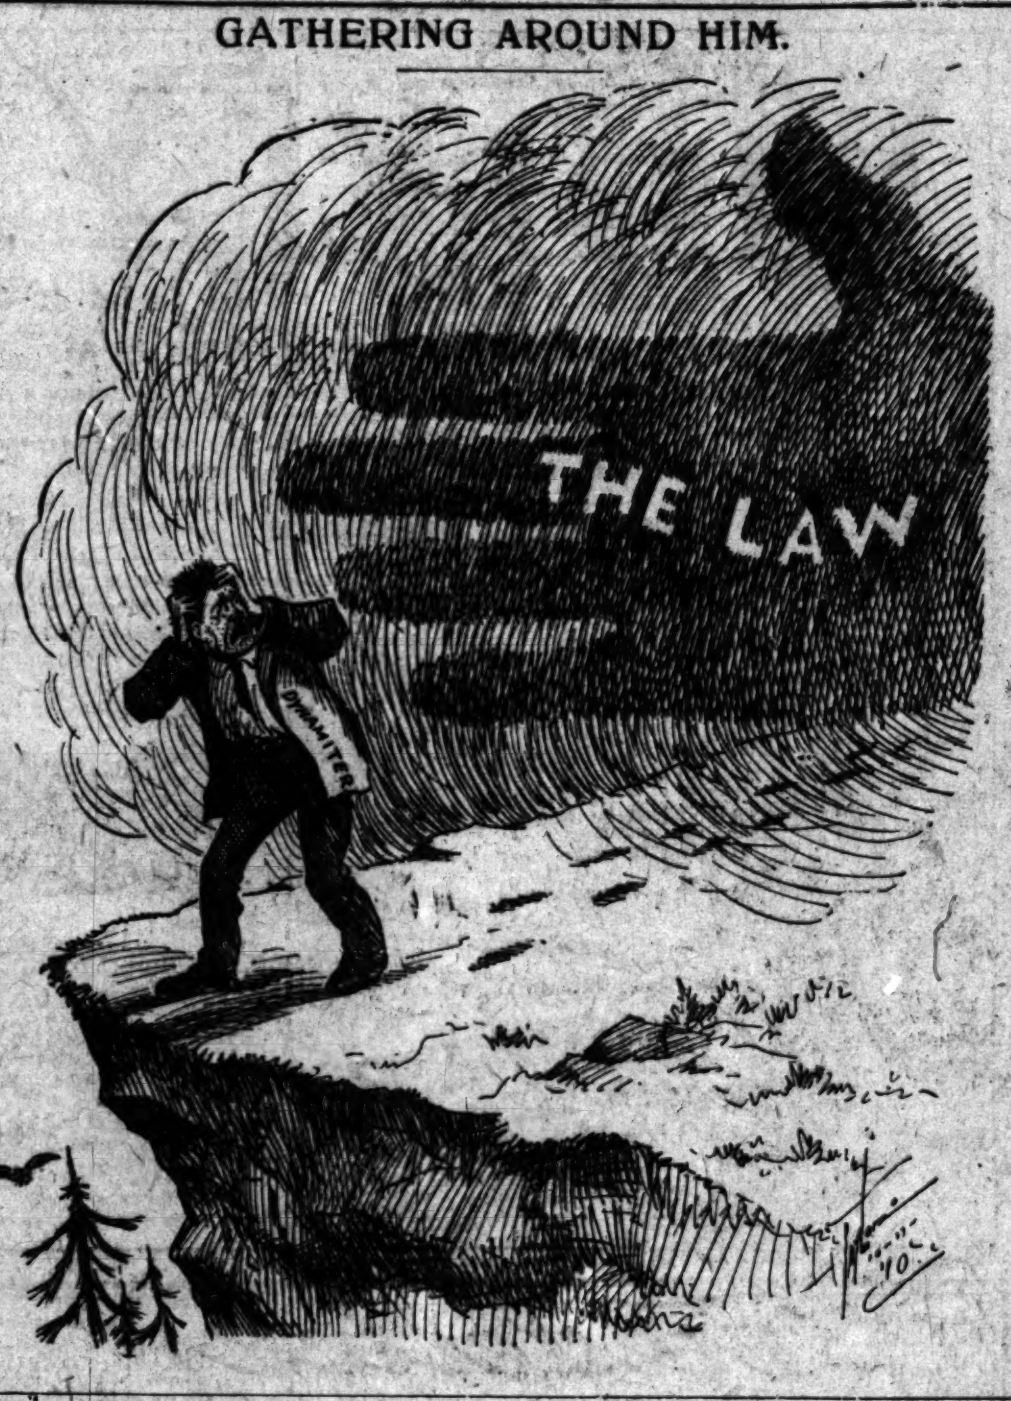

HATE OFF IN COURT.
In Hutchins vs. George, 44 N. J. Eq. 124 (reversed in 45 N. J. Eq. 757) a New Jersey vice-chancellor nullified a testator's bequest in trust for distribution of Henry George's works, because in "Progress and Poverty," Mr. George had declared that "historically as ethically, private property in land is robbery." The vice-chancellor denied the spreading of such a doctrine among the "happy land" must not be encouraged by courts.

Mr. Justice Hall of the New York Supreme Court not long since issued an injunction forbidding the striking clock-makers from trying to persuade non-union workers to leave the employment of the manufacturers. Such a decision as these put in the mouths of socialist agitators to quote the celebrated saying of John Randolph that "the Book of Judges comes before the Book of Kings."

It is the absolute right of an employer of labor to decide from his premises and from the approaches to his premises walking delegates who molest his workmen, and interfere with their labors, by trying to persuade them to quit work and join a strike.

But when a labor leader hires a hall wherein to foment his orderlies, he has, so long as he does not counsel his hearers to crime, and violence, and unlawful acts, a right to recommend them to throw down their tools and sleep on the grass in the parks or by the roadside, and go hungry and toiling in pursuit of their constitutional privilege to be loafers and tramp.

It is the doctrine announced by Justice Goff in Denaher, that, inasmuch as a nomination to a lucrative office is under the direct primary law a property,

GATHERING AROUND HIM.

"I have seen him in the night," says a hundred glowing words in the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

THE BATTLE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC.
The Battle Hymn of the Republic is a song of a soldier, eager for the war; it is a song of a man, who holds his fortune in his hands; it is a song of a man, who holds his fortune in his hands; it is a song of a man, who holds his fortune in his hands.

SCIENCE NOTES.

Effect of Vibrations.
A British authority has contended that it may be demonstrated that solid metals may reveal by their structure the vibrations to which they have been subjected. In explaining this phenomenon, experiments were shown to prove that a beautiful wave structure is imparted to the surface of metals by the vibrations of a tuning-fork, and that even the surface of solid metal has been subjected to similar vibrations, possessing a structure resembling that of a vibrating surface of mercury.

There appears to be a certain rate of vibration which this compound cannot resist. In experiments to determine the cause of its extreme explosiveness, some damp lumps of nitrogen were rubbed on the strings of a violin. It is known that the strings of such an instrument will vibrate with an equal tension, are played upon.

In the present case, after the explosive had been thoroughly dried, and the strings, another damp violin was brought near and its strings were touched with the damp finger. The explosive was then exploded, and the strings were found to be seriously damaged.

It was found that the explosion occurred only when a rate of vibration of 60 per second was communicated to the prepared strings. "Vibration of the G string caused an explosion, while that of the E string had no effect."

What force least expected does the greatest damage to buildings is the vibration of the ground. The architect's answer may be a surprise to those who do not understand that it is the regularity of vibration that makes it powerful.

Yet it is certainly true that there have been instances when the walls of stone and brick structures have been seriously damaged by the vibrations from a violin. These cases are, of course, unusual, but the facts are established.

The vibrations of a violin are really serious in their unison, unbroken force, and when they come with regularity, they exercise an influence upon structures of brick, iron or stone, which is not to be despised.

Or what is the matter? The vibrations of a violin are really serious in their unison, unbroken force, and when they come with regularity, they exercise an influence upon structures of brick, iron or stone, which is not to be despised.

Despite the fact that science has been puzzling over the problem for many years, the explanation of the glowing secret is still unexplained. We have very little more to say about the mysterious lamp—physicists light the experts call it—than did our forefathers. Even its purpose is still hidden.

Except to delight the human eye, the fiery flames flashing through the trees, the molten lava, the glowing illumination of the sea seen to be absolutely purposeless. They may have been written by a woman—and one of the kindest and gentlest of women.

It is difficult to conceive that this hymn of all republics should have been written by a woman—and one of the kindest and gentlest of women. It is difficult to conceive that this hymn of all republics should have been written by a woman—and one of the kindest and gentlest of women.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer opened his heart to the alignments of the future of the harbor at a luncheon given at the Alexandria by the Chamber of Commerce and said that of those things that Los Angeles was waiting anxiously to hear, the most important was the plan for the harbor. The picture of the harbor, drawn by a man of the Navy, was one of the most encouraging prophecies the city had seen without its own territory.

"I viewed your harbor yesterday," Secretary Meyer, tried to tell me. "I shall see it if I come here ten years hence. I pictured to myself a harbor full of ships, unloading their cargoes and taking on cargoes of oranges. I pictured the ships of the Orient here unloading and re-loading on their way to the ports of the Pacific. I saw the treasure of the Mediterranean diverted here to the Argentine destination, coming to you on your water and to your harbor and adding to the prosperity of your home and your fields."

Secretary Meyer began by saying that he was not a harbor man, but that he was a city of the future. He said that he was not a harbor man, but that he was a city of the future. He said that he was not a harbor man, but that he was a city of the future. He said that he was not a harbor man, but that he was a city of the future.

As a grower, Mr. Sparr, besides his private ownership at Glendale and elsewhere, is heavily interested in, and president of the Lotengo and Naralimo Land Co.'s, two successful citrus growing concerns with holdings at Corona, Pedley and Fillmore.

As a shipper, Mr. Sparr is head of the Sparr Fruit Co., a large, successful and aggressive independent company with few or no enemies, and friends wherever the company has operated.

Mr. Sparr has long been a grower at Pedley and out of his own practical experience in this locality was born the knowledge and belief that the West Riverside Estate offered his best opportunity of locating a group of satisfied orchardists who could and would raise that fine quality of fruit possible to this immediate section.

Mr. Sparr's knowledge should and will be of practical benefit to every purchaser on the West Riverside Estate.

Mr. R. J. Widney,
Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sir:

I have received an advance copy of your prospectus, or pamphlet, in regard to the West Riverside Estate. Let me congratulate you on your showing and on your plan of operation.

I think you have stated the case very conservatively and in such a way as to appeal to prospective buyers. Your statements will bear the closest scrutiny and I think no real estate man or orange grower could criticize anything you have said.

Personally, I have been acquainted with the tract in question ever since it was set out, and having been an orange grower for twenty-five years, my testimony should be of some weight when I say that the groves you are offering are among the best in this vicinity. The water right is absolutely perfect and the soil and situation ideal.

Yours very truly,

R. J. Widney

POSS TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—Harrison was reported in the Daily News today as having been for some time in the hands of Mr. Fox, a member of Congress from the Fourth district, because of his nomination as a candidate for Governor by the Massachusetts Republican party, who was named by the convention under the understanding that he could withdraw his name if he could not be elected. The Democratic State Convention was complicated but owing to a technicality Mr. Campbell, the present Governor, will have to run on nomination papers as a Democratic independent candidate.
